

Worksheet: Personalize Your Giving

People give for many reasons, all very personal to them.

Perhaps you feel strongly about a cause or an organization has touched your life or the lives of your loved ones. Maybe you want to create a legacy and set an example that inspires others to give. Or your giving is a way to bring your family together and pass along your values to future generations. The key to a rewarding giving experience is finding the best fit for you!

Follow the three steps below to develop a plan that meets your charitable priorities.

Step 1: Define Your Charitable Passions

- What issues do you care about? When you think about our world and society, what inspires or excites you? What upsets or angers you?
- If you could wave a magic wand and make a difference in the world, what would you change? How would the world be different?
- Why do you give? What gives you the greatest satisfaction when you give?
- What organizations do you currently give to? Why do you support these charities?
- Do you prefer to fund capital projects (bricks & mortar, equipment), emergency funding, endowment, general operating support, project support or something else?

Step 2: Plan the Details of Your Gift

- What dollar amount or percentage of your estate do you want to leave charity?
 - What is your tax situation?
 - What assets are you interested in giving? The foundation can accept a wide variety of assets, including cash, life insurance, stock, property and more.
 - Are there any major life events coming up that could impact your giving decisions? (i.e. sale of a business, retirement, death of a loved one)
 - How much involvement do you want to have with the causes you support?
 - How much recognition would you like to receive?
